HoCo Habitat Women Build 2016

Houston County Habitat for Humanity Women Build 2016

Thousands of women across the United States are joining together to address the need for affordable housing with Habitat for Humanity.

Since its launch in 2008, National Women Build has continued to gain momentum. Participation in the 2015 National Women Build Week was nearly double from the previous year, with more than 23,000 volunteers raising awareness, funds and hammers to help low-income families obtain safe, affordable places to live.

HoCo Habitat has chosen not to limit this event to a week, but to continue all year long! Not only will you help build homes and give back to your community, but you get to participate in Lowe's Women Build Workshops planned throughout the year courtesy of Lowe's. Learn new painting techniques, how to use power tools and much more! We're partnering with Keep Warner Robins Beautiful to build beautiful park benches & birdhouses for our city parks. Help the disabled with a new wheelchair ramp and so much more! Your partnership with us will make a tangible difference for a life-time of those in need right here in Houston County!
