

Spring Cleaning...or Spring Greening!?

Always confused about where to throw away those old electronics? HoCo Habitat for Humanity has the answer! To celebrate Earth Day and our move to our new offices and ReStore, we want your obsolete, broken electronics, which will be repurposed or disposed of safely for the environment. Plus, HoCo Habitat makes money for its home-building programs!

When: April 1 –April 22nd (except Sundays & Good Friday) 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Where: HoCo Habitat for Humanity, 955 Watson Boulevard, Warner Robins

Contact: Cheryl Glover, 478-328-3388; hoco Habitat.org

Five Recycling Principles

- Reduce: Lessen your consumption
- Reuse: As often as possible
- Return: Use when you need and return what you can
- Reclaim: Hold events to reclaim out of service, out of date, obsolete, broken and unwanted electronics. Typically we harvest elements from the e-waste for reuse.
- Rebuild/
Refurbish: About 80% of reclaimed e-waste is reused by responsible manufacturers and recyclers around the world.

Data on all donated items is automatically destroyed magnetically and you will be issued a certificate of destruction by the agency carrying out that process in accordance with federal regulations.