Dear Sponsor:

The fight to eliminate substandard housing continues throughout our great land. Therefore, I am writing on behalf of Houston County Habitat for Humanity to request support for our "Love thy Neighbor" Gospel Benefit Concert, which will be held on Saturday, September 19, 2015, at the Homer J. Walker Civic Center, Warner Robins, Georgia, 6:00 P.M.

HoCo Habitat families, churches, corporate, community partners, and the greater Houston County Community will gather for a worship experience presented by recording artist Evangelist Emill Bridges, area bands, local church choirs and a word from our very own Mayor Toms.

We are excited about the promising opportunities our Love thy Neighbor Gospel Benefit Concert provides in celebrating our work locally. Not only will it provide the tools needed for laying the foundation, framing, roofing and landscaping to build our next home, but it has the power to transform lives of hard-working families in our community and give them the resources to become successful homeowners and valuable community members. Your compassionate giving will have a lasting impact on our community because you are providing a hand up, not a hand out.

I hope that you see the intrinsic value of supporting this event. Your partnership will be recognized throughout our great County. We cannot do it alone. We need the help of our community.

Your support helps us to sustain our work here in Houston County. I have enclosed a partnership form that outlines various levels of support you can provide. The highest level of support brings the highest visibility and the greatest return.

I look forward to your participation. If you have questions or would like to speak further, please feel free to contact me at (478) 328-3388 or email development@hocoohabitat.org.

Sincerely,

Cheryl Glover
Resource Development Coordinator
